Courses

Are there any areas of study that will not be available to visiting students?

The Global Study Program is an undergraduate program and therefore only exceptional students will be permitted to enroll in graduate courses with instructor approval. Certain courses are extremely popular and may not be available, including courses in Communications, Economics, Computer Science, Design, Electrical Engineering, Food Science, Nutrition and others. Special exams may be required for some courses; failing the exam would prevent enrollment. Space in any specific course is not guaranteed, even for visiting students with strict requirements on courses necessary for graduating from their home university.

Are there courses taught in English?

All courses are taught in English with the exception of foreign-language courses (e.g., Spanish, Japanese, Chinese, French, German...)

Is there a scholarship available for visiting students? No Yes

Accommodation

Are incoming visiting students guaranteed housing? If so, what kind of housing is it?

No Yes: On-campus Off-campus

In admission letters students receive information about home-stay arrangements and rental apartments in the city of Davis.

How much are the estimated living expenses? Costs vary (the average range is U.S. $475 to $1,125 per month)

How do students find their accommodations? Two excellent housing options are available: rental apartments or home-stay arrangements. Students make their own housing arrangements, with guidance from Global Study Program advisors who make every effort to ensure students find housing close to campus.

Additional information

Does your university require health insurance for all international students? No Yes

Are students required to buy your university insurance? No Yes

Insurance is mandatory. Students must purchase insurance in their home country or through UC Davis.

Is there a pick-up service upon arrival? No Yes If yes, are there any required fees from visiting students?

Yes, students can negotiate fees, especially if they arrive in larger groups, with Davis Airporter, http://daviswiki.org/Davis_Airporter.
